				Narrative Hernando Police Officers met at the Southaven Range in their standard attire and turned over their department-issued 40 caliber Glock pistols. They were then issued new 9mm Glock pistols. Officers then completed classroom instruction covering safe handling of firearms, disassembly and reassembly for cleaning, sight alignment, trigger manipulation, stance, and reloading. Officers then completed a written test issued by J. Cotter. (Students earning less than 100% were later instructed on the areas of concern.) Officers then relocated to the range, where firearms instruction was given by J. Bramlett and J. Cotter. Drills included timed shots requiring accuracy from 10 yards both from a holstered and unholstered position. Reload drills were performed as well as malfunction drills involving "snap cap" training rounds.

Officers, by signing, acknowledge attendance in handgun training and receipt of provided Response to Resistance policy.

Narrative:

On the above dates, officers met at the Hernando Police Department conference room. Instruction was given in a variety of areas, provided by individuals both within the agency and from outside. J. Bramlett provided instruction on proper collection and processing of evidence. Within his instruction, HPD Policy 13.1 "Evidence Collection, Control, and Storage was read and shown on the television in the room. He advised officers on the needs of proper separation of drug and non-drug evidence and the importance of accurate TPW with drug evidence.

T. Algee instructed on officer resiliency using VALOR class material. He covered the dangers of complacency and the need for continued mental, physical and emotional wellness.

B. McMinn and J. Harper from the Desoto

Hernando Police Department Training Report

County EMA presented training on awareness and response to hazardous materials and provided ERG books to all in attendance. Officers were briefed on HPD policy 6.33 "Bloodborne Pathogens" and instructed on the use and limitations of PPE that is available to officers.

L. Williamson from the Desoto County District Attorney's Office presented Legal Updates training. He covered recent changes in DUI laws, actual vs. constructed possession, custodial vs. non-custodial interrogation, spontaneous utterances, probable cause vs. reasonable suspicion and the components of a Terry frisk.

L. Brown instructed on Perimeters and Traffic Stops with an emphasis on K9 application. Areas addressed were perimeter basics and a K9's role in a search and legal considerations in vehicle search including the length of stop as pertaining to Rodriguez v United States and areas able to be searched. Additionally, he covered the Carrol Doctrine and plain view stipulations.

K. Hodge instructed officers in Ethics, addressing all of the Canons of Police Ethics, as well as bias-based profiling and sexual harassment. He covered HPD policy 12.7 "Citizen Complaint and Inquiry" which was displayed on the screen for officers. He then addressed HPD policy 3.5 "Off-Duty Conduct and Powers of Arrest."

D. Gates provided instruction on the 4th Amendment, HPD policy 6.8 "Search Warrants" and HPD policy 6.9 "Search of Motor Vehicles."

Hernando Police Department Training Report

Afterwards, Lt. J. Cotter provided instruction on sexual harassment, addressing HPD Policy 5.10 and explanation of situations that may be considered in violation. Attorney Paige Williams then provided instruction on legal updates and juvenile law. Officer J. Ratliff then provided instruction on RADAR and administered written examinations for the use of RADAR and field observations for officers to complete as required for recertification.

Report Prepared by: J. Cotter

Officers, by signing, acknowledge attendance in annual in-service training 2021, to include: CEW recertification, Search and Seizure training, Sexual Harassment training, Legal Updates, Juvenile Law, and RADAR training/recertification.

Narrative continued

I provided instruction as provided by the current V.21 TASER update which was retrieved within 72 hours of the training day. Officers were instructed via required PowerPoint presentation and provided required C.E.W. warnings and legal consideration handouts. All officers displayed safe handling of C.E.W.s and completed drills using expended training (blue) cartridges, to include reload drills. Officers then completed the required 2 deployments with live 15-foot cartridges, hitting acceptable target locations on a conductive, AXON target. One deployment was done from a laying position from officers' backs, to provide experience firing from additional positions, and the second deployment was done standing. All officers completed the V.21 written test with 100 percent.

I explained the common reasons for each and the common ways to correct them (Tap/rack for feed, fire and eject issues. Rip/rack for failure to extract). A safety check was done for all firearms and confirmed to not have live rounds by myself and the officer(s) receiving instruction. All officers were shown the techniques and all officers demonstrated the ability to perform them.

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>		<input type="checkbox"/>

Narrative
Officers met at Mid South Institute in Lake Cormorant and began removing the bolts from their AR style rifles and replaced them with Simunition "blue bolts." A safety check was performed with each officer verifying that neither they, nor other officers had any live ammunition on them or in the training area. Officers then loaded Simunition into their rifles and donned eye protection. Officers then performed a walkthrough of the training area, confirming that no personnel were in the training area. Afterwards, two versions of 8.5"x11" targets (one to engage, on not to engage) were placed throughout the area to be cleared by team members. The team split into various groups of 4 and trained on tactics to successfully clear the structure, only engaging appropriate targets.

Narrative
Officers met at T.E.E.S. in Byhalia, MS and cleared all weapons. We then installed Simunition (blue) bolt in our AR style rifles. Officers then loaded Simunition rounds and conducted a final safety check of themselves and each other to ensure that no live ammunition was in the structure. Officers entered the shoot-house and began clearing the structure without targets to engage. After several "dry" runs, Lt.s Bicknell and Cotter then placed "shoot" and "don't shoot" targets throughout the structure. Team members set up in groups of 4 and began clearing the structure, engaging only the targets intended to be engaged. Multiple exercises were performed with a variety of combinations of officers in different positions. No officers engaged the "don't shoot" targets.

Narrative
Team members met at the Desoto County EMA controlled burn building and performed a safety check of all weapons to ensure that no live ammunition was present in the training location. Using tactics learned from TEES and the Desoto County SWAT School, team members began in "stack" formations and cleared the structure. This was performed multiple times with a variety of changes made to open/closed doors. Captain Lanphere positioned himself in different locations within the structure to observe and to provide feedback regarding movement and tactics.

Officers met at the Southaven Range and cleared all weapons of duty ammo and loaded training ammo. Officers completed drills in which they had only 1 round in the weapon and an empty magazine. The weapon was fired at an 8.5x11 sheet of paper and a reload was completed and a second round was fired at the same target. This drill was timed to increase pressure on those performing the drill and to ensure that all participants could complete the task in 4 seconds or less. Afterwards, officers were split into 2 teams of 3 and completed drills involving everyone to run to the 25 yard line and have one officer shoot, then everyone run to the 15 yard line and a different officer shoot, then everyone run to the 7 yard line and the last officer shoot. The drill continued in the reverse order. Each team used a 8.5x11 target. After completing this exertion drill, officers completed reload drill with their rifles. After reload drill were completed, a similar exertion drill was performed with rifles, however, the distances were increased to 50 yards, 25 yards, and 15 yards.

Officers met at the Hernando High School and cleared all weapons before entering to ensure that no live ammunition entered the building. An initial sweep was performed for the area to be used for training to ensure that no students or faculty were present. Using tactics learned from T.E.E.S., officers, in "stacks" of varying numbers (4 and up) cleared rooms one at a time going the length of the hallway (focusing on one side at a time to allow for easier retention by new members, A. Vaughn and A. Moore. Officers were placed in different positions within the stack to get experience on a variety of locations and responsibilities. Exercises included entering rooms with open and closed doors, as the technique is different for both. The team trained on entering from both the left and right sides. After new members became familiar with the techniques, the team donned helmets and gas masks and continued clearing up and down the hallway wearing the equipment and becoming familiar with the sensation of restricted airflow and obstructed view caused by the masks, relative to clearing buildings without them. Upon completion of the training, an additional sweep was performed to ensure that no equipment was left behind and officers cleared.

Narrative

Officers met at T.E.E.S., loaded their magazines with training ammunition, and donned their heavy vests. Officers then moved to the range portion of the facility, and loaded their pistols, and were put through the in-progress SWAT pistol standards which utilize a 8.5"x11" sheet of blank paper. Upon initial completion of the standards, "dot torture" exercises were completed, to improve officers' fundamentals and provide feedback as to what may be causing potential misses. Officers then completed the standards a second time.

Afterwards, officers retrieved their AR style rifles and completed the in-progress Swat rifle standards. Upon completion of the standards, exercises utilizing small targets at approximately 10 yards were completed, with emphasis placed on the need for adjusting the point of aim to accommodate for "hold over" due to the rifles being sighted in at 25 yards.

Afterwards, officers cleared their weapons of training ammunition and reloaded with duty ammo before clearing the training facility.

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>			Training Objective(s): Improve officers' proficiency with sidearm and rifles from standing, kneeling, and prone positions

Narrative
Officers met at the SPD range and cleared their weapons of duty ammo and loaded training ammo. Officers began by using their sidearm to engage a target with 3 squares that were approximately 2"x2" in a vertical line. Officers were instructed to engage each square twice. The top square while standing, the middle square while kneeling, and the bottom square while prone. This drill was repeated several times. Then, officers repeated the drill with their AR style rifles. Afterwards, additional drills were done with officers split into 2 teams. A target with circles in a vertical line of decreasing size was used. Officers had 5 rounds to engage the circle of their choice, knowing that smaller circles awarded higher scores. This drill was repeated with pistols and rifles several times.

Narrative:

Officers met at the Hernando Police Department conference room and were provided the required PowerPoint presentation, which had been verified to be the most recent version (V.21). Officers were provided the required CEW "Smart Use Considerations" documentation, Law Enforcement Warnings, handouts of the V. 21 PowerPoint, the HPD Response to Resistance policy, and the HPD CEW policy. Officers also filled out appropriate recertification paperwork and, upon completion of classroom instruction, completed the applicable written exams (part 1 and part 2, which applies to the X26P) with a passing grade of 100%. Afterwards, officers relocated to the Gale center and a safety check was performed. Officers were provided used, blue training cartridges and then demonstrated safe handling of the CEW. "Dry" drills were performed which
